

Wallenpaupack
Creek Farm

Welcome!

@jillkatherinephotography

Wallenpaupack Creek Farm combines natural beauty with historic restoration. Our venue can accommodate up to 200 guests and the season runs May to October. We are located just south of Lake Wallenpaupack in the rural Pocono Mountains – just a 2-hour drive from Philadelphia and NYC. Lake Wallenpaupack is a beautiful mountain lake with an abundance of wildlife, hiking and boating opportunities. Our 40-acre farm property is located in South Sterling, PA in the bottom of a fertile valley. The barn, originally built in 1839 by German settlers and reconstructed in 2017 by local Amish builders has a 54'x40' open floor plan – well suited for a reception. There is a grand double barn door entrance with a second double barn door at opposite side of the barn to a balcony overlooking the pastures. Atop the barn is a bell tower with operational 175-year-old bell that can be heard across the farm and valley. Our property is also a functioning farm – we have free range laying hens, pasture-based beef cattle, sheep, a greenhouse, an orchard, and outdoor gardens.
